REFLECTIONS

OF 1959

FOREWORD

Mirrored in our looking-glass of time, we see a well rounded picture, abounding in work, study, and fun.

We, the staff of the 1959 INNITOU, have attempted to record these never-to-be-forgotten memories in order to keep them alive both literally and pictorially.

Judging by the cheerful expression on their faces, Karen and Mr. Ring seem to have reached a satisfactory decision during this guidance conference.

DEDICATION

The success of a graduate depends to some measure on his abilities, his aptitudes, and his interests. To some extent it depends on the instruction received and on the knowledge acquired. A great deal of success depends, however, on the direction of these abilities, aptitudes, interests, instructions, and knowledge into the proper channels for each individual.

For this guidance we have looked to a person who has willingly devoted his time and effort in our behalf. As a small measure of our gratitude for this devotion to us, we, the Class of 1959, dedicate The INNITOU to

Mr. Timothy F. Ring, Director of Guidance

Mr. Ring is appreciative of the great help given to him by his secretary, Miss Rosalie Tirrell.

AND ADMINISTRATION

As we prepare to leave the restricted area of the classroom, we pause to reflect for a moment on that which we cherish most. Ranked high among our memories will be the hours spent under the tutelage of capable and devoted instructors and administrators.

You have instilled in us ideals which we hope will bear fruition in the years ahead. For these ideals we shall be forever grateful. Our fondest hope is that we shall always be a credit to you.

Members of the Graduating Class:

In considering this final message a parting bit of advice to you, the Class of 1959, I find the task a difficult one. Due to the rapid strides and discoveries of science during the past decade, you will mature in a world with problems beyond the imagination of any of us today.

Further development of atomic power—unheard of explorations into outer space—are just two of the many new situations which will arise to confront your generation. Are you prepared to meet these exigencies?

Your education in the Woburn Schools has been adequate and ranking high with that of any public school system in our country. In view, however, of the changing world, you must continue your search of knowledge; you must be alert at all times to the danger of complacency, and you must be ready to accept responsibility in the new world of which we now know so little.

In order to preserve democracy and the American way of life, you must be ever vigilant to keep abreast, and even surpass, the youth of godless nations who have been trained in atheistic ideologies and whose aim is world domination.

Your task is great, but our faith in you is greater. You will meet the challenge fearlessly as generations of American youth have done in the past.

As you leave the Woburn High School, our prayers go with you for a fruitful and happy future.

Dr. J. Frank Hassett
Superintendent of Schools

ND THE PRINCIPAL CLASS OF 1959

Members of the Graduating Class of 1959:

As you stand on the threshold of Graduation from Woburn High School in June, 1959, and reflect on your years of preparation for this turning point in your life, you may well note that you have lived through years of crisis in world affairs. The world of yesteryear and the comparatively simple society of even the relatively recent days when you began your formal schooling have gone forever.

In education, too, you have witnessed the intense interest and exhaustive studies which are being made on the modern comprehensive high school. An awakened and alarmed public has been made aware that the very welfare and safety of our beloved country is at stake in the coming years. It has been well said that human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe.

This feeling of deep concern has found reflection in the more challenging opportunities made available to you, and it is pleasing to note the eagerness and seriousness with which you have accepted the tasks. This attitude of cheerful and fearless acceptance of the future's demands gives us great encouragement for youth in the days ahead. The intensified and changing programs in the humanities as well as in science and mathematics are successful because you have met them with increased application.

The principal purpose of the Woburn High School, established well over a century ago, has always been to provide the best possible education the community could offer to fill the educational needs of all the youth who attend the school. These needs, once simple, are now as complex as the space age we have entered. Because we feel sincerely that your preparation by a competent and dedicated staff has been adequate, we have confidence in your future and the future of our country.

May success attend your every effort, and may God be with you always on the highways of life.

Henry D. Blake, Principal

CLASSES

On September 3, 1958, the doors of Woburn High School swung open to admit the largest student body in the history of the school. Students swarmed the corridors and the classrooms, eager to start a new year of academic and social life. It was not very long before friendships were made, and seniors, juniors, and sophomores mingled to form a composite picture of the teenage world.

CLASS OF 1960

Front: Mr. Flaherty, Joan Moore, Treas. Back: Richard Corsetti, Pres.; Janet Carbone, Sec.; Mr. Sweeney, Fred Vanley, Vice-Pres.

No strangers to the school, a group of 340 students returned to Woburn High School in the fall, eager to start a new social and academic year. With Mr. Flaherty and Mr. Sweeney to give them a helping hand, the class officers planned many events which were culminated by the traditional Junior Prom.

CLASS OF 1961

On September 3, 1958, Woburn High School welcomed 330 students as members of the sophomore class. Under the direction of their advisers, Miss Murray and Mr. Skeffington, it was not too long before they became adjusted to the ways of living in a large high school. Their first attempt at planning a dance, The Winter Whirl, proved most successful.

CLASS SONG

Tune: Let the Rest of the World Go By

Adieu

By MALCOLM GRAHAM

The time now is here to bid fond adieu;
Dear Woburn High, we'll miss the years we spent with you.

Your guiding hand has shown the way;
Life's new road shall start this day.

Your faith shall not fail as we blaze a trail
To conquer fields anew for you.

So let our hearts shine with pride, as we say goodbye

To all our friends at dear Woburn High.

Our Monument

By MARTHA McGOWAN

There came a day, the final one for us;
Upon which former days frothed clear and crystalline,
Adrift, and gone soon on the surge of Time,
Floating on seas of memories.
We wanted then a monument erect,
A buoy to mark our course, our passage there.
A mooring fast to bear against the swirling tides around,
Changeless, and anchored on solid ground.
But Time and Tide care nought for stone
Or monuments of Man's design;
Rigid, they crumble, fall, are swept away,
Leaving no trace behind.
If, then, we seek which shrine will stand,
Which ties hold fast through future storms,
We find that these won't fail, though we must part:
The fond remembrances of the heart!

TIES

Realizing that all learning does not take place in the atmosphere of the classroom, it was not too many weeks after our class schedules had been completed that we were again busy organizing our clubs and sports groups to try our strength at leadership. Under the sponsorship of faculty members, many new groups were added to those already well-established. An activity for every student and every student a member of an activity became our slogan.

THE INNITOU

The problems of The Innitou staff have been many, but the rewards have been great. Anyone who has walked by room 318 on any afternoon could have seen the eagerness with which the staff attacked these problems. From a clutter of write-ups, pictures, dummies, copy, etc., has emerged a book which the staff hopes will bring you much satisfaction now and in the years to come.

What's so puzzling, Pat?

Everyone enjoys looking at pictures.

The yearbook must have patrons also.

Ruthie and Judy have some more work to do.

Mr. Vantine discusses our many problems.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council discusses what action to take.

Acting as the liaison between the students and the faculty, the Student Council has a voice in all school affairs. The main objectives of this group are to bring about improvements and to coordinate all school activities. Sponsoring rallies, assemblies, and student exchanges, the Student Council is most influential throughout the school.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Although lacking in height and experience, this year's basketball team showed a great deal of spirit and energy. Our boys, though not champs, displayed all the enthusiasm and stamina which is necessary for a successful team. Under the excellent leadership of Captain Joe Marciano our team was unsurpassed in good sportsmanship and school spirit.

Jump — Bobby — Jump!

Who'll get the jump?

The Girls' Basketball Team, although it did not have a victorious season, nevertheless scored high in enthusiasm and school spirit. Under the capable leadership of captain Dorothy Russo and coach Prasinos, our girls made up in drive and energy what they lacked in experience.

BAND

Composed of students from Junior and Senior High, the band transfers enthusiasm and school spirit from itself to the student body. Under the excellent direction of Mr. Kimball, the band plays at school assemblies, parades, concerts, and many other activities.

The ability and hard work of its members combine to give our band its excellent performance.

The future's looking dim.

Twirling batons, spectacular hoop routines, and kick lines were a source of pleasure to those who attended Woburn's football games. Frequently the Drum Majorettes displayed their talents while accompanying the band in its appearances at civic parades. The co-captains, Donna Ryan and Mary Jane Neiman, were responsible for the many wonderful performances of the group.

DRUM MAJORETTES

First Row: M. Nieman (co-captain), J. Masotta, B. Carrns, S. Goulet, J. Hanlon, D. Ryan (co-captain). Second Row: Mr. E. Kimball, P. Donahue, B. Anderson, E. Anderson, E. Crescenzi, C. Buttaro (soloist), E. Lombard, G. Franceschelli, K. Sheehan, S. Hagerty.

CHEERLEADERS

"Let's go WOBURN!"

A familiar "go team go!" Realms of cheers were heard echoing through the crowded stands. These cheers led by our peppy cheerleaders proved important in giving our team the moral support it needed. Between the games they worked diligently making up new cheers and spending many afternoons teaching them to our Pep Club.

Paula and Don enjoy a dance.

Be cool, be calm, be collected!

First Row: J. McNult, J. Bowman, R. Cuozzi, W. Shaughnessy, J. Cahill, D. Ahern, R. Magee. Second Row: T. Foley, R. Spenser, P. Carbone, J. Foley, C. Bolster.

FOOTBALL

Although the Tanners experienced an unsuccessful season, the prestige of the team was not diminished. Through the trying efforts of Coach Paul Dorrington and Captain Neil Odams the Tanners fought with considerable endurance in the many grueling scrimmages.

Come on gang let's get in there and fight!

Who'll recover the fumble?

First Row: T. Flaherty, D. Eaton, R. Haggerty, R. Walsh (captain), E. Callahan, A. McHugh, A. Altavesta.

ITS FEAT

MEMORIES

In the hustle and bustle of our academic life, we took a few short hours to enjoy the lighter side of school life. The dances, parties, plays, and commencement activities stand out quite vividly as we reflect upon the past three years. The memories of them will linger for years to come.

Judy Powers reigns as queen of our prom while her attendants, Elaine and Alie, with their escorts look on.

MAGIC

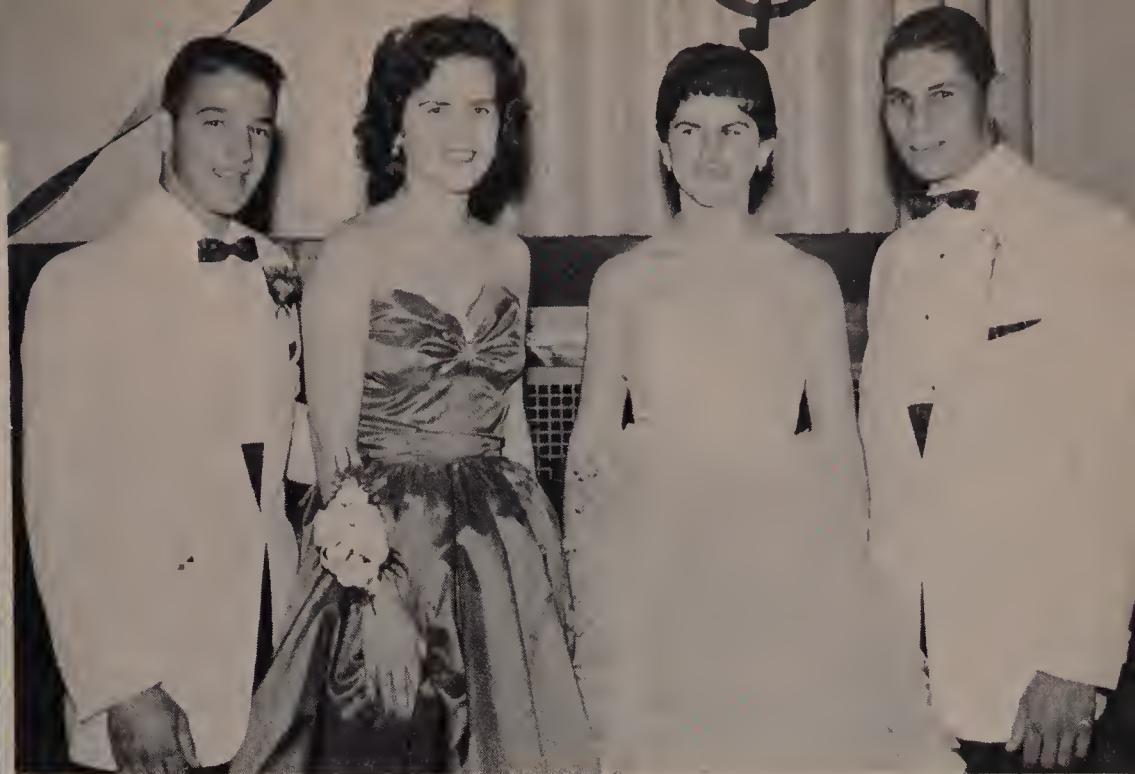

In spite of a crowded dance floor, the couples enjoy dancing to the strains of Ernie McBey's orchestra.

The boys clamor for punch which Beth graciously serves.

Frank, Janice, Linda, and Peter, our Junior Class officers, have every reason to smile as they watch their classmates enjoy a well-planned evening.

MOMENTS

MAY 2, 1958

Teachers, as well as students, enjoy a most successful evening.

CLASS

Eleanor Magnuson serves as Marshall for the Class Day exercises held June 2, 1958.

Eleanor is assisted in her marshaling duties by her charming classmates.

Lovely junior girls add much color to the impressive ceremony.

DAY

Junior Class President, Peter Carbone, accepts the gavel from Senior President, Vincent Carbone.

The junior girls look truly elegant in their best finery.

PINK

The chaperons cordially greet the guests presented by our ushers.

Our prom committee looks approvingly upon the fruits of their hard work.

The grand march shows that a huge group attended our prom.

PARADISE

DECEMBER 12, 1958

Ronnie and Joe offer punch to their lovely dates.

Our ushers look handsome in their tuxedos and bow ties.

Many couples enjoy a memorable evening of dancing at "Pink Paradise."

Joanne Johnson, as queen of the dance, is attended by Alice Carney and Janice Chamberlain.

SCIENCE FAIR

MARCH 5-6, 1959

Physics Division: Edward Rybicki, third place; Albert Boudreau, first place; William DeRossi, second place; Joseph Bourque, runner-up.

General Science Division: Paul Davis, first place; Ronald O'Dea, second place; Barbara Demas, third place.

Advisers: Mr. Marderosian, Mr. Cohen, Mr. Walsh, Mr. Horrigan.

Biology Division: Michele Ribak, first place; Frank Arena, third place; Roland Maloney, second place; Joseph Cassetta, third place.

Richard Barch explains the intricacies of radio operating to Rex Loder.

Mr. O'Brien, Miss Herlihy, Mr. Loguidice.

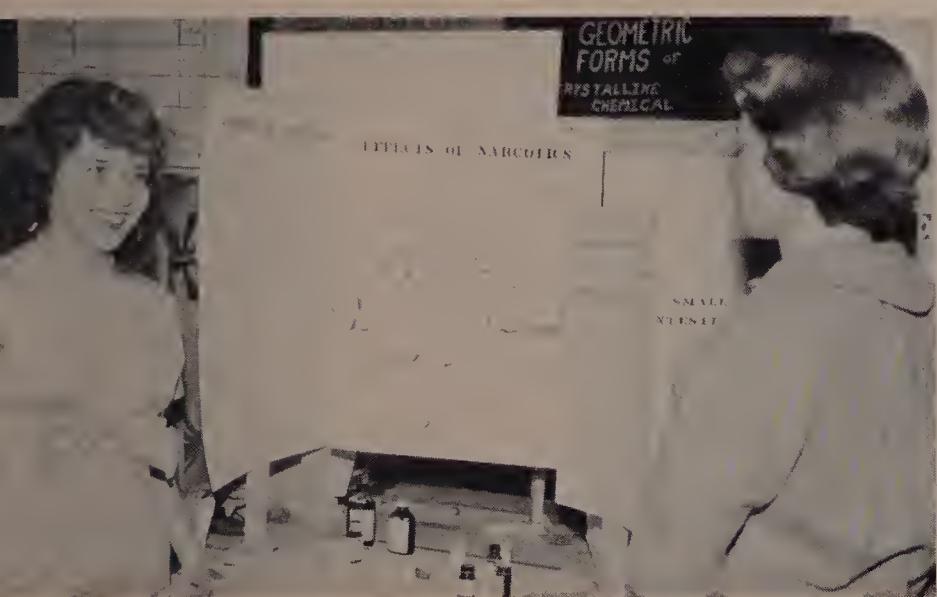

Chemistry Division: Roger Woods, first place; Joseph Mastroianni, third place; Jack Thompson, second place.

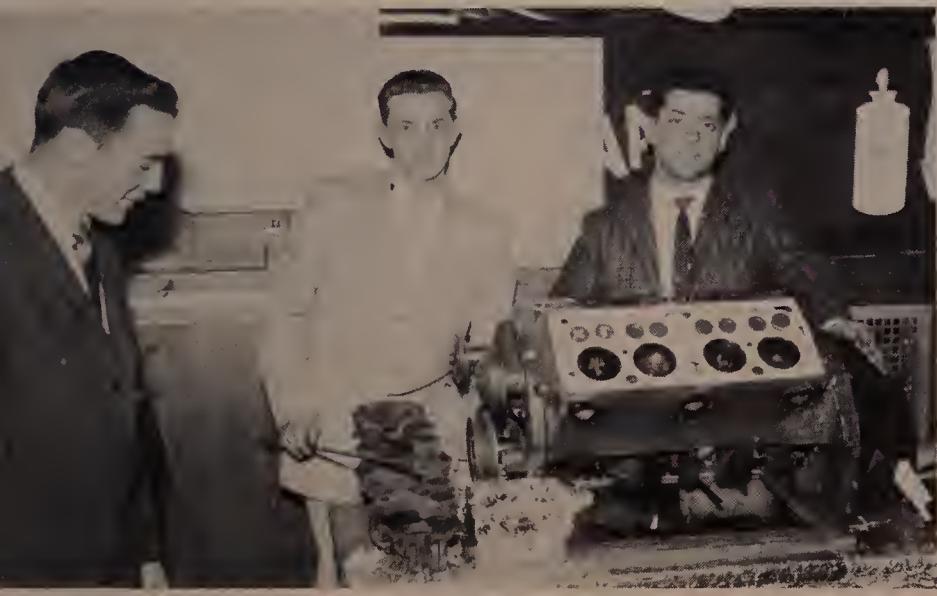

David Gricus and William Wade are proud of their achievement certificates awarded for proficiency in the Physics Division.

Betty Sheeran is assuring Sylvia Woodaman that she realizes the dangers of improper use of narcotics.

Mathematics Division: Richard Larson, second place; Robert Pappas, third place; Eric Peterson, first place.

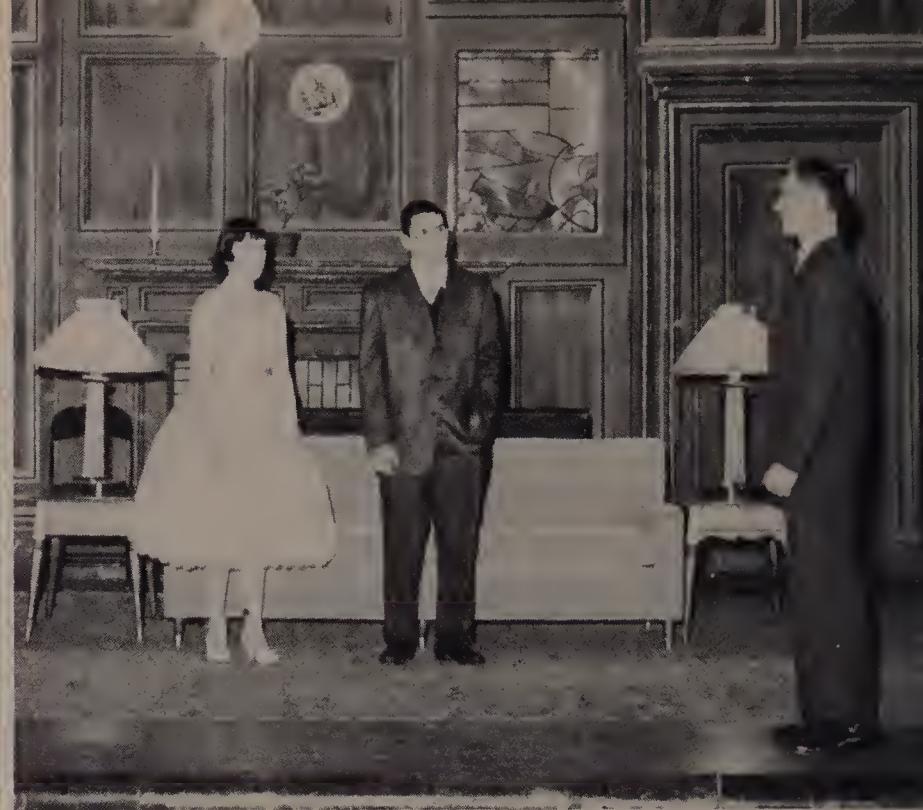

Paul Rogers shows keen interest in the 8-cylinder motor of Richard Tofuri and Michael Yebba.

"Congratulations, I hope you'll be very happy."

"I can't congratulate you until tomorrow."

"How do you do, Madame La Grange."

"THE THIRTEENTH CHAIR"

This spine tingling mystery by Bayard Veiller added much life to our senior year.

As the play opened, thirteen guests were enjoying themselves at an illustrious dinner party. To liven up the party a spiritualistic seance is held and when the medium goes into her trance, Mr. Wales falls dead on the floor.

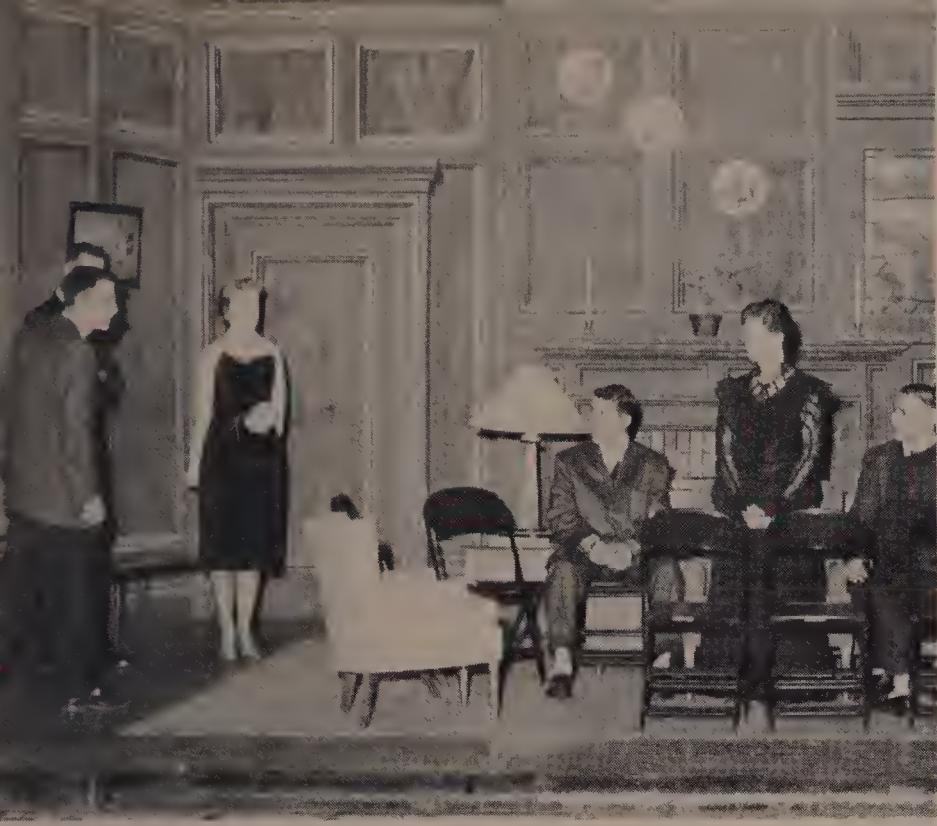

Throughout the play everyone is baffled as to who the culprit is. It is, of course, a great surprise when Mr. Mason confesses.

"Laughing Eyes will help me."

"He's dead!"

"So you know where everyone was sitting, do you?"

"E-h-h-h-h-h-e-e!"

Signed: The Class of 1959

OITS SPON

One of the most ambitious undertakings of our senior year was the publication of our yearbook, THE INNITOU. With the publishing costs rising higher every year, we assumed quite a responsibility. As in the past, however, our many friends came to our aid. Along with the cherished memories of our friendships made at school, we shall always hold you, our sponsors, in high esteem. We are most grateful for your assistance.
